MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 24, 1865.

Something about a Mint.

[illegible] Hon. R. M. Bride arrived by the steamer [illegible] Saturday evening, and from him we gather the following particulars [illegible] the Mint [illegible] from the Dalles to Portland [illegible] that Stevens of Pennsylvania was opposed entirely to the Mint project and to the [illegible] bottom of the Committee on Ways and Means of the House to which the bill was finally referred. Mr. McBride says he followed the [illegible] which his personal friend Mr. Washburn was Chairman. That committee reported [illegible] the House [illegible] the Committee on Ways and Means, to which it was then referred. Mr. McBride very candidly says that he felt no personal interest in the passage of the bill, but, considering it his duty to obey the instructions of the State Legislature, he did all for it that he could have done had the measure been one in which he was directly and personally interested. Mr. Nesmith and himself saw the committee and urged them to report upon it and in favor of it. They individually saw each member of the committee, ten in all, and urged the matter upon each, but not officially. This was a most important committee and had more work than they could accomplish, while they were united in believing the Oregon Mint an unnecessary thing and the relaxation of it one of the most unimportant measures that required their consideration.

Judge Williams, as was expected of him, did all he could for Portland. As Mr. McBride expresses it, He did all that any man could do—worked for it with all his might, using all his influence, coming at last to the conclusion that there was no chance to secure action upon it, and that the real sentiment of Congress was against any mint at all. In due time W. H. Newell arrived upon the scene, so full of the importance of his own ideas that he considered it necessary to say his say to the committee. The proposition to introduce him was received by Stevens with the remark "you don't want any mint at all in Oregon, but bring him in." He "went in and got squeezed," that is to say the conceit was taken out of him by the fact that not more than two of the ten paid the slightest attention to his eloquence. Five minutes of inattention sufficed even for Newell, who, deaf as he is, sadly realized that "There are none so deaf as those who won't hear." He subsided in disgust. Mr. McBride says he had about as much influence at Washington "as a knot on a log would have had," which remark will fully satisfy his friends that their $1,500 was a first rate investment, and fully reply to his assumptions, since his return, of importance there.

Mr. McBride says if there had been any report made by the Committee it would have favored an assay office at Portland—nothing more. It is his impression there will be no Mint, as the Director of the Mint at Philadelphia, whom he saw, is opposed to it. Secretary McCullough, whom he conversed with, considered it unnecessary, though he thought the appropriation made might possibly be expended. Had the bill passed, it would have been as a personal favor, not as the sentiment of either House of Congress. Many agreed to vote for it who were not in favor of it.

It is but fair to the amiable emissary from the Dalles to say that Senator elect Williams [illegible] tried to make an impression upon the Committee when in full session, and though treated with all the respect his distinguished character and position deserved, he soon found out that all attempts were of no avail, as the Committee considered other business of more importance. The appointment of Mr. Logan was talked of as probable, in case a Superintendent was wanted in the future. So we leave it to the public to decide which is the greater failure, the attempt to get a Branch Mint for Oregon, or the pretensions of the Dalles Munchausen, which, becoming small by degrees and beautifully less when tested by facts, leave at last in view only the journey of Newell to the Capital, which no doubt deserves to be published and bound as an appendix to Gulliver's travels.

THE DALLES AGAIN.—Last week we published a letter from the Dalles, which spoke indignantly of the conduct of Newell and a part of the people of that town on the day the news of the President's death was received there. To know that on so sad an occasion there were such proceedings anywhere as those witnessed by our correspondent at the Dalles must grieve every one, and the matter would never have been alluded to in these columns again, but for the absurd and reiterated denials of the Mountaineer of the truth of the statements contained in "Vindex's" letter. It is quite in keeping with the character of the editor of the Mountaineer to attempt to overawe any person who happens to be the object of his dislike by the use of bluster and scurrility. He makes no attempt to show that our correspondent's statements are erroneous, but contents himself with making a general charge of mendacity in regard to his letter.

Now every statement that communication contained is abundantly corroborated by the concurrent testimony of several persons who witnessed the affair and whom we have conversed with. All unite in throwing the whole blame on Newell, for the reason that he did not inform the people of the mournful event which had occurred. In order to gratify the pitiful vanity of enjoying a triumphal reception, he suffered the affair to proceed while many of the people were ignorant of what had transpired. The procession, of which Vindex speaks, entered Moody's Hall, where Newell delivered a flatulent speech in praise of himself, saying nothing about the sad news just received. A more conspicuous proof of his utter and heartless depravity cannot be found than in his conduct on that occasion.

[illegible] THE ASSASSIN.—We have it from one who was [illegible] the murderer of President Lincoln, that he is a young man of slender form and quite interesting and attractive in appearance. He is said to be an illegitimate son of the elder Booth, and his true name was John Wilkes, to which, when he went upon the stage, he attached the name of Booth on account of the associations that made that name of value in the playing world. Our informant saw him perform on the stage at Grover's Theatre, Washington. As an actor he had considerable talent, and the impassioned style of his playing spoke a mind that might be wrought to fanaticism. There is a strong resemblance between him and Edwin Booth, whatever may be their relationship.

WISTAR'S BALSAM
OF
WILD CHERRY!
HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY HALF A CENTURY,
WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every affection of the

THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST, INCLUDING EVEN CONSUMPTION.

[illegible] The unequalled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

PULMONARY COMPLAINTS

has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advertise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these:

- S. B. Fiske, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.
- E. Boynton, M. D., Exeter, Me.
- Alexander Hatch, M. D., China, Me.
- R. Fellows, M. D., Hill, N. H.
- W. H. Webb, M. D., Cape Vincent, N. Y.
- W. B. Lynch, M. D., Auburn, N. Y.
- Abraham Skillman, M. D., Boundbrook, N. J.
- H. D. Martin, M. D., Mansfield, Pa.

The proprietors have letters from all classes of our fellow citizens, from the halls of Congress to the humblest cottage, and even from beyond the seas; for the fame and virtue of Wistar's Balsam have extended to the uttermost bounds of the earth, without any attempt on our part to introduce it beyond the limits of our own country.

TO CALIFORNIANS AND OREGONIANS.

After October 1, 186[illegible] the genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY [illegible] on the Pacific Coast will be enclosed in a new wrapper, which will bear the printed names of both Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston, Mass., and John D. Park, Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as fac-simile of the signatures of "I. Butts," "Sanford & Park," and "H. Wistar, M. D."

Cure Your Cold, Save Your Lungs.

NEWELL'S
PULMONARY SYRUP
HAS CURED THOUSANDS!
And it will Cure You!

"A Cough is generally the effect of a Cold, which has either been improperly treated or entirely neglected. When it proves obstinate there is Always reason to fear the consequences, as this shows a weak state of the lungs, and is often the forerunner of Consumption."—Buchanan's Domestic Medicine.

STOP THAT COUGHING!

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure; but

Pulmonary Syrup!

Is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by its surprising curative powers.

WHAT KILLED HIM?

Dr. Hall, in his "Journal of Health," speaking of the death of Washington Irving, asks the above question, and adds: "He might have remained with us for some years to come, had it not been for advice, kindly intended, no doubt, but given in thoughtlessness and reckless ignorance.

He Had a Cold!

Which, by some injudicious prescription, had been converted into asthma." Let me say to Dr. Hall that that "prescription" was not

NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP.

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE, use it freely, give it to your children upon the slightest indications of a Cold, and you will thank and speak of it as all do who have become acquainted with its merits.

[illegible]

Charleston as our Troops found it.—The correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, who accompanied General Gilmore on his entry into Charleston writes a very interesting account of the condition in which the city was found. The following paragraphs are from his letter.

The [illegible] the fifth vessel to reach Charleston, swung beside a [illegible] old pier. The motley crowd of some hundred on the pier, to which the tugs were fastened, seeing a handsome transport land with its two large white stars on a field of blue, flying at the jackstaff deserted the little crafts and the Admiral, and rapidly made a detour to the pier at which we rode. A lot of urchins in worn out rebel jackets were the skirmishers, then negroes of both sexes who rushed to shake hands with such of the crew as were already ashore. Then ten or fifteen stragglers, all Irish or German from the rebel army, who had hidden to fall into our hands and looked on without demonstration and, lastly a squad of five young ladies of German extraction, pretty, well dressed for Charleston twenty per cent of the five being rosy, plump good looking, and all not in the least afraid of the Yankees. In all, Gen Gilmore's committee of reception numbered barely one hundred and was composed as I have stated.

Along the whole line of piers not another soul was visible save a few of our colored soldiers. The streets down which we could look were deserted, not a horse or a vehicle in sight. No smoke arose from the chimneys, no blinds were thrown open. But the piers told the most eloquent tale of decay. They were crazy, neglected, and a sorry tombstone to departed traffic. On none of them was there the slightest evidence that any commerce had been carried on there in the memory of man. The piles were awry, the planks warped and dismantled, and in places removed altogether. Even the rings worn on the stanchions by the old time cables were no longer visible. Around the piles, and for a short distance out in the harbor floated clots of half consumed cotton, sent nearer shore by every impulse of the flood tide and not at all detracting from the aspect of commercial ruin.

That portion of Charleston subject to the Swamp Angel's favors lay opposite where we were moored, and it was not necessary to stir from the deck of the Cort to see a fair specimen of the havoc occasioned by them. Holes were visible in the walls of brick houses through which a [illegible] ter. Many roofs along the pier were perforated [illegible] king bolt, making an opening large [illegible] graphical sky-light, [illegible] piers themselves had been hastened in their disorder by stray shell fractures now and then.

I walked down the pier into the streets and glanced up and down them, my time being too brief even for a hurried stroll. The interior streets, like those on the quay, are dead. Charleston is the deadest Southern city I have ever seen since the rebellion commenced. Savannah is a Paris beside it. Debris from shells lies in the streets where it fell. Every scar where a fragment had struck is as visible as the day on which it was made. The lower third of the city was an infected district. No one dared sleep there, and, even when the guns at Morris Island were silent, men walked with an iterated gait and their ears pricked. The damage done to Atlanta from shells is inconsiderable beside that done at Charleston.

Nautical Lofty Tumbling.—Three first-class clipper ships of the three rival n[illegible] the Winged Arrow, representing Hail Columbia, Tasmania, champion of Rule Britania; and Ville de Paris, of La Belle France—were lying within hail of each other, in the harbor of Calais, all a-taunto, holiday-spars in end, and skysail-yards across. Of course the ancient rivalry of Jack in feats of seamanship was ready to break out and blaze up upon the slightest provocation. It came one morning, when a jolly tar on board the Tasmania ran up the main rigging like a cat—right on the top mast head—on still, up the topgallant rigging—on, up the royal and skysail backstays—and [illegible] the main skysail-masthead with his tar[illegible] lip. Three rousing cheers went up from the T[illegible] for their champion. Those cheers stirred up the bitterness of the Gauls, and away aloft went an active young Triton of the Ville de Paris, beating Johnny Bull's time all to nothing, and going infinitely [illegible] of him by standing [illegible] on end on the main truck, a hundred and fifty feet above the deck. This daring feat called out three times three from the triumphant Frenchmen, and started one of the Yankee Arrows up the main rigging at a speed almost equaling the flight of a real arrow. Gaining the truck, Yankee Jack grasped the mast just below it, kicked up his heels over his head, and almost planted his head downward on the truck. But the fling of his heels was a trifle too vigorous; it carried him over with a vim, broke his hold and down he came whing dingle, lighting first on the crane-lines of the backstays, which, acting as a spring-pole, sent him inboard, and down he went again, hitting and balancing for a moment across the mizzen-topgallant stay, and tilting from that he lit finally on the trail netting a few feet from the deck, and, tumbling out of that, not an atom hurt or scared, he shook his fist first at the Tasmania, then at the Ville de Paris, and shouted like a young hurricane: "There! you lubbers! Do that, if you're able!"—New York Evening Post.

General Scott on our Victories.—Lieut a[illegible] General Scott was invited to participate in the celebration of Union victories in New York, which came off March 6th, but declined in the following note:

New York, March 3, 1865

G. P Daly, Chairman, etc.—Dear Sir: I regret, on account of debility, I cannot take part in the grand celebration of to-morrow, as I sincerely rejoice in our victories over rebels, which, with others impending, cannot fail soon to bring back into the Union, on terms of perfect equality in rights and duties, the outstanding States. Reciprocal r[illegible] and admiration have already, by the dint of hard fighting, been established between the gall[illegible] veterans of the opposing armies, and this noble sentiment gives the hope that it may conquer the miserable hatred so general between non-combatants—Secessionists and Unionists. This, indeed, would be the great conquest of the day. I [illegible], with high respect, yours, truly,

WINFIELD SCOTT.

Tennessee a Free State.—The Nashville Times of the 27th contains the proclamation of Governor Johnson, announcing that enough is ascertained to place the result of the vote on the Free State Constitution beyond all doubt, and to justify the official announcement that the amendments are adopted by the people. The amendments now constitute a part of the permanent Constitution and Supreme law of the State.

The proclamation (which was Gov. Johnson's last act before departing for Washington, to assume the office of Vice President of the United States) says: "A new era dawns on the people of Tennessee. By their solemn act the shackles are struck from the limbs of more than two hundred and seventy-five thousand slaves. The whole social system is reconstructed on the basis of honest industry and personal worth. Intelligent enterprise and free labor are alone wanted to clothe the State with a richness and beauty surpassed by none of her sisters.—Illinois State Journal.

Red Bluff Roads.—The Shasta Courier tilts into the Red Bluff Independent as follows on account of its road mania:

Roads out of the State, and inducements to our citizens to travel them, is a theme of the Red Bluff Independent. Nearly every issue is filled up with puffs and blows of the superior inducements offered by some road out. Reading it induces the theory that that town and the State had a superfluity of population and that it is discharging a labor of love in getting rid of the white portion, to make room for Chinamen who can live in greater numbers in less space. For the petty gratification of getting a road traveled, it would depopulate the State of its industrious population by locating five acres of moonshine 300 or 400 miles away, building a road to it and then recommend everybody to travel it. Better exercise your talent, Mr Independent in finding inducements for people to stay at home.

Mrs Rebel Senator Foote.—Washington gossips say Mrs Rebel Senator Foote's departure from the city was welcomed almost as warmly as her coming. The ladies at her hotel, in particular, are greatly wroth with her. In their gentle hearts they took pity on her sufferings in rebeldom, and sought to welcome her to a land where she would find something to eat and cease suffering from "nothing to wear." To their great disgust, she responded by depicting the delights of Richmond, and absolutely came off with flying colors. Said the wife of an eminent officer: "I tried to be polite to her but when she told me that the day before she left Richmond she saw as good a market as she ever saw in her life, I couldn't stand any more of it." The general verdict of the ladies was, that if Mrs Foote was a type of Southern Unionism Mr Seward might welcome her as much as he pleased but we had better keep fighting a while longer.

Secretary McCulloch.—This gentleman was born in Kennebunk Maine. Previous to being called to the Controllership of the National Currency Bureau he was President of the State Bank of Indiana which is the largest moneyed institution of the West, having a capital of nearly three and a half millions of dollars, and nine branches located in different parts of the State.

Motto—"The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can Sew all kinds of Cloth, and with all kinds of Thread."

Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public began to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine.

We would ask for our Letter A Machines the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines, making, like them, the interlocked stitch and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes, as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what ours can do before making a purchase.

☞ All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities and the best method of purchasing, can obtain it by sending for a copy of the Singer Manufacturing Company's Illustrated Pamphlet which is entirely devoted to the subject. It will be sent Gratis.

Portland, November 4 1867

CHARLESTON AS ... The correspondent of ... who accompanied the General ... in to Charleston ... a very interesting account ... of the condition in which the city was found. The following paragraphs are from his letter

The ... the fifth vessel to reach Charleston swung ... lazy old pier. The motley crowd of ... hundred on the pier to which the tugs were fastened ... a handsome transport ... with its two large white stars ... the flying at the jackstaff ... of the little craft and the ... the pier at which ... were all their shore those negroes ... the sex ... shaking hands with such ... were a ready ... then ... fifteen stragglers ... or German from the rebel army ... had hidden ... fall into our hands and looked on without demonstration, and lastly a ... pretty well dressed ... for Charleston twenty per cent of the five being ... good looking and all not in the least afraid of the Yankees. In all ... more ... committed ... one hundred ... as ... I have stated.

Along the whole line of ... were ... was visible save a ... The streets ... were ... not a horse or a vehicle in sight. No smoke ... from the chimneys ... the ... open. But the piers told the most eloquent tale of decay. They were crazy, neglected and a sorry tombstone to departed traffic. On none of them was there the slightest evidence that any commerce had been carried on there in the memory of man. The piles were awry, the planks warped and dismantled and in places removed altogether. Even the rings worn on the stanchions by the old time cables were no longer visible. Around the piles and for a short distance out in the harbor floated clots of half consumed cotton sent nearer shore by every impulse of the flood tide and not at all detracting from the aspect of commercial ruin.

That portion of Charleston subject to the Swamp Angel's favors lay opposite where we were moored and it was not necessary to stir from the deck of the Con to see a fair specimen of the havoc occasioned by them. Holes were visible in the walls of brick houses through which a horse might enter. Many roofs along the pier were perforated by a smashing bolt, making an opening large enough for a photographical sky light, and the piers themselves had been hastened in their disorder by stray shell fractures now and then.

I walked down the pier into the streets and glanced up and down them, my time being too brief even for a hurried stroll. The interior streets like those on the quay are dead. Charleston is the deadest Southern city I have ever seen since the rebellion commenced. Savannah is a Paris beside it. Debris from shells lies in the streets where it fell. Every scar where a fragment had struck is as visible as the day on which it was made. The lower third of the city was an afflicted district. No one dared sleep there and, even when the guns at Morris Island were silent, men walked with accelerated gait and their ears pricked. The damage done to Atlanta from shells is inconsiderable beside that done at Charleston.

NAUTICAL LOFTY TUMBLING.—Three first-class clipper ships of the three rival nations—the Winged Arrow representing Hail Columbia, Tasmania champion of Rule Britannia, and Ville de Paris, of La Belle France—were lying within hail of each other in the harbor of Calais all ataunto ... spars in end and skysail yards across. Of course the ancient rivalry of Jack in feats of ... seamanship was ready to break out and blaze up upon the slightest provocation. It came one morning, when a jolly tar on board the Tasmania ran up the main rigging like a cat—right on the top mast head—on still, up the topgallant rigging—on, up the royal and skysail backstays—and capped the main-skysail masthead with his tar ... Three rousing cheers went up from the Tasmania for their champion. Those cheers stirred up the bitterness of the Gauls and away aloft went an active young Triton of the Ville de Paris, beating Johnny Bull's time all to nothing and going infinitely ahead of him by standing straight on end on the main truck, a hundred and fifty feet above the deck. This daring feat called out three times three from the triumphant French men, and started one of the Yankee Arrows up the main rigging at a speed almost equaling the flight of a real arrow. Gaining the truck, Yankee Jack grasped the mast just below it, kicked up his heels over his head, and almost planted his head downward on the truck. But the fling of his heels was a trifle too vigorous; it carried him over with a vim, broke his hold and down he came whing dingle, lighting first on the cranelines of the backstays, which, acting as a spring pole, sent him inboard, and down he went again ... and balancing for a moment across the ... topgallant stay, and tilting from that he lit finally on the frail ... a few feet from the deck, and, ... out of that, not an atom hurt or scared, he shook his fist first at the Tasmania, then at the Ville de Paris, and shouted like a young hurricane "There! you lubbers! Do that, if you're able!"—New York Evening Post.

GENERAL SCOTT ON OUR VICTORIES.—Lieutenant-General Scott was invited to participate in the celebration of Union victories in New York, which came off March 6th, but declined in the following note

NEW YORK, March 3, 1865

C P Daly, Chairman, etc —Dear Sir: I regret, on account of debility, I cannot take part in the grand celebration of to-morrow, as I sincerely rejoice in our victories over rebels, which, with others impending, cannot fail soon to bring back into the Union, on terms of perfect equality in rights and duties the ... States. Reciprocal respect and admiration have already, by the dint of hard fighting, been established between the gallant veterans of the opposing armies, and this noble sentiment gives the hope that it may conquer the miserable hatred so general between non combatants, Secessionists and Unionists. This, indeed, would be the great conquest of the day. I remain, with high respect, yours, truly,

WINFIELD SCOTT

TENNESSEE A FREE STATE.—The Nashville Times of the 27th contains the proclamation of Governor Johnson, announcing that enough is ascertained to place the result of the vote on the Free State Constitution beyond all doubt, and to justify the ... announcement that the amendments are adopted by the people. The amendments now constitute a part of the permanent Constitution and Supreme law of the State.

The proclamation (which was Gov Johnson's last act before departing for Washington, to assume the office of Vice President of the United States) says ... A new era dawns on the people of Tennessee. By their ... act the shackles are struck from the limbs of more than two hundred and seventy five thousand slaves. The whole social system is reconstructed on the basis of honest industry and personal worth. Intelligent enterprise and free labor are alone wanted to clothe the State with a richness and beauty surpassed by none of her sisters.—Illinois State Journal.

RED BLUFF ROADS.—The Shasta Courier digs into the Red Bluff Independent as follows on account of its road mania:

Roads out of the State and inducements to our citizens to travel them, is a theme of the Red Bluff Independent. Nearly every issue is filled up with puffs and blows of the superior inducements offered by some road out. Reading it leads to the theory that that town and the State had a superfluity of population and that it is ... urging a labor of love in getting rid of the white portion, to make room for Chinamen whom it lies in greater numbers in less space. For the petty gratification of getting a road traveled, it ... depopulate the State of its industrious population, by locating five acres of moonshine 300 or 400 miles away, building a road to it and then recommending everybody to travel it. Better exercise your talents, Mr Independent in finding inducements for people to stay at home.

MRS. REBEL SENATOR FOOTE.—Washington gossips say Mrs Rebel Senator Foote's ... from the city was welcomed almost as warmly as her coming. The ladies at her hotel, in particular are greatly wroth with her. In their gentle hearts they took pity on her sufferings in rebeldom and sought to welcome her to a land where she would find something to eat and cease suffering from "nothing to wear." To their great disgust she responded by depicting the delights of Richmond, and absolutely came off with flying colors. Said the wife of an eminent officer "I tried to be polite to her but when she told me that the day before she left Richmond she saw as good a market as she ever saw in her life, I couldn't stand any more of it." The general verdict of the ladies was that if Mrs Foote was a type of Southern Unionists Mr Seward might welcome her as much as he pleased, but we had better keep fighting a while longer.

SECRETARY MCCULLOUGH.—This gentleman was born in Kennebunk Maine. Previous to being called to the Controllership of the National Currency Bureau he was President of the State Bank of Indiana which is the largest moneyed institution of the West having a capital of nearly three and a half millions of dollars, and nine branches located in different parts of the State

THE WORLD RENOWNED

SINGER SEWING MACHINES!

MANUFACTORY

182, 184, 186, 188, 190 and 194 Mott street, New York

Motto—"The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can Sew all kinds of Cloth and with all kinds of Thread."

Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes but it is only of late that the public began to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine

We would ask for our Letter A Machine the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines making like them the interlocked stitch and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes, as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what ours can do before making a purchase

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities and the best methods of purchasing can obtain it by sending for a copy of the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY'S ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLET which is on ... devoted to the subject. IT WILL BE SENT GRATIS

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY

LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,

PHYSICAL PROSTRATION

INDIGESTION

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the Procreative Functions. Persons about to marry if conscious of any weakness should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man. He stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind which was previously sunk in gloom of an almost idiotic apathy becomes bright and active and he goes forth regenerated ... of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself and restores it to its normal condition

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER

INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS AND CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,

STRANGUARY AND BURNING OR PAINFUL URINATING

CALCULUS GRAVEL

BRICK DUST DEPOSIT AND MUCOUS OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases and you will ever give praise to
